Military Time Chart - The 24 Hour Clock

The question sometimes arises whether midnight is written as 24:00 or 00:00. Military and emergency services personnel refer to midnight both ways. However, digital watches and clocks that display time in a 24-hour format and computer equipment treat midnight as the start of a new day and express it as 00:00.

Both are acceptable. A usage example showing the 12 hour clock vs military time would be a time table showing 4:00 pm to 12:00 midnight. This would be written as 16:00 - 24:00. Another example highlighting the difference between the two would be to show that 10:15 am is written as 10:15 in military time but 2:30 pm is written as 14:30.

Time Add Subtract Hours Minutes -- TimeBie

Military time uses the same number of minutes per hour. It is just a different format in which you can express time.
While converting a time from one format to another, there is no need to convert minutes.
